RUSSIA'S REAL YELLOW PERIL

Drifting Sands Make Desert of 1,000 Acres of Fertile Farm Lands Every Year.

"The great enemy comes from the east. Our yellow peril does not appear in human shape. It comes in a much more dangerous and insinuating form than Mongol invasion. Slowly but surely it is advancing upon us and its vanguard has already reached the gates of Kiev."

Thus spoke some years ago, Vladimir Solovitch, the well-known Russian scientist, who foresaw the danger to Russian agriculture of the drifting masses of sand which are being steadily blown across some of the most fertile parts of Southern Russia.

The urgent nature of the danger is once more emphasized by General Mitchenko, the commander-in-chief of the Don Cossacks, who has made a report to the St. Petersburg government in which he points out that every year 1,000 square miles of fertile land in the Don Province and 1,500 square miles in the government of Astrakhan are being swallowed up by the invader and rendered unfit for cultivation.

During the past year, the drifting masses have done the greatest damage within living memory. One large agricultural colony in the Don region has had to emigrate in a westward direction for the fourth time in fifty years. General Mitchenko urgently advocates afforestation as the only way to stem the spread of the sand plague. The cost, it is figured, would only amount to a fraction of the $750,000 which is now lost every year to Russian agriculture.—New York Sun.

PECULIAR CHARM OF FRANCE

More Restful Than Other Countries, Is the Reason Given by Distinguished Writers.

It is impossible for anyone who knows France, and has felt the charm of the country and its people—and who has not—to approach French problems in a severely critical spirit. The beautiful cities, the broad stretches of wonderful Corot landscape threaded by marvelous roads, form the playground of travelers from other lands. No matter what is sought, there it can be found. The gay life of the streets, the opportunity for the spending of money for beautiful things, the charm of art and music, are offered to the guest of Paris. Those who seek the quiet and freedom of plain or forest have not far to go, and a thousand places, each seeming more attractive than the other, make their appeal for a longer stay than the visitor can afford.

The greatness of France is of so recent a date that one forgets it is not more distant. The whole country gives the impression of a quiet backwater where one can put in for rest and enjoyment, and without discomfort watch the turgid stream of life in other lands as it rushes by. No other country suggests this feeling in such a compelling way, yet in these pushing times of modern material progress it is all counted against her success in the international struggle for the trade of the world, that prize which costs annually more blood and money than did the final political dismemberment of Europe.—James Davenport Whelpley in the Century.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 1.—General selling, due to fine weather for the Argentine harvest, made prices earlier today in wheat. The opening, which varied from 1-8 to 1-4 lower to a shade advance, was followed by a moderate ease.

Unsettled weather tending to delay receipts brought about a show of strength in corn, but the gains were not held by the deferred options. Prices started unchanged to 1-8-1-4c higher and rose still more for December.

Heavy selling pressure, chiefly from brokerage concerns, weakened One firm alone unloaded a million bushels in the pit.

The wheat close was steady, 1-4-3-8 to 1-2-5-8c net higher.

STOREKEEPER HELD

UP BY THREE MEN

John T. Sandford, who runs a store at 214 Thirty-first street, was held up in his place of business, about 8 o'clock, Saturday evening. There were three men in the gang, and while two of them guarded the entrances to the store, the third, under pretense of purchasing some tobacco, got the storekeeper to turn around, when Sandford faced him again, he was covered by a revolver and told to hand over the money in the cash drawer. This he did slowly and the robber, growing impatient, reached over and took out part of the money himself. He then backed to the front door and left. About $40 dollars was secured from the store. Sandford ran for his gun but found that he had forgotten to get any ammunition. He then called for the police and several officers came direct to the scene but failed to find any trace of the highwaymen. The robber who took the cash is described as being a Mexican and about 5 feet 8 inches tall.

Don't Run on Flat Tires

--USE--

Brown's Automatic Puncture Signal

Dr. F. H. Brown and F. C. Bandamar Are in Ogden Today and Tuesday, Selling Stock. See Demonstration at Browning Bros. Garage.

The device is a small machine having the appearance of an ordinary valve stem and can be attached to any wheel. It is so arranged as to give the driver a signal light at any two points of pressure, one for high and one for low. For instance: Suppose you never want your tires to get below 50 pounds pressure. Set the device at 50, and the instant your pressure gets down to 50 pounds, either from puncture, neglect, or any cause, the signal light on the dash, right in front of the driver will flash with each revolution of the wheel, until you stop and remedy your trouble, thus giving you time to stop before the weight of the car has had time to injure the casing or tube. Then for high pressure it is so arranged that you may set it also. Suppose you don't think your pressure should ever get above 100 pounds. Set the other end at 100, and if you are out on a hot run and you get up over pressure you will receive the same signal, giving you time to stop and reduce the pressure, saving you a blowout. This placing your pressure between two safety points relieving the driver of what is today the greatest mar in autoing. You don't
